Supplying the Services Needed to Succeed

Maintaining Optimal Supply Chain Reduces Costs and Optimizes Efficiency for Physicians and Their Practice

01 | Advisory Services

It is simple and easy to have a supply chain assessment that can help identify critical areas that can be improved. There are advisory services available to help you with price discrepancy resolutions, contract implementation, item management, and streamlined ordering. These services help keep your practice organized and monitors current needs and processes.

- Price discrepancy resolution will ensure you are paying the correct price on all your transactions.
- Contract implementation will strategically outline a course of action for your office with custom portfolios.
- Item management will oversee a master list of items for your practice and maintain product flow.
- A streamlined online ordering system service will allow for budget control, integration of patient charges and accounts payable.

02 | Sourcing Services

Sourcing services provide fast and easy access to products while also gaining exclusive discounts and promotions. Standardization of purchases across suppliers maximizes savings. Gain access to programs that allow for protections against drug shortages and contracts that are tailored to your practices specialty.

03 | Analytic Services

Through broad and detailed analytics your practice can eliminate duplicate processes and unnecessary ordering. With innovative technology and advanced tools analytics are easily produced that evaluate competitive purchasing behavior, off cost saving comparisons, and create benchmarks for your practice.

04 | Collaboration Services

Some services are part of a collection of information and resources that are brought together for collaboration. This culmination of expertise and knowledge leads to an abundance of support for any practice. Advisory teams are available and ready to listen to physicians and their needs in order to offer new and creative solutions. Insights on networking, education, and government affairs in the healthcare industry are often the most complex and frequently visited topics. Having a collaborative effort to support physicians in these areas allows for more accurate and thorough understanding.
